Five-Tiered Writing Assessments

PURPOSE

To provide students theme-based activities that

- begin at a recall level of thinking (Depth of Knowledge [DOK] 1) and
- develop into higher levels of thinking (DOK 2-4).

Five-Tiered Writing Assessment - OVERVIEW

TIER 1: Students respond in writing to a prompt. They use prior knowledge (recall-DOK 1) to respond.

TIER 2: Students are provided a variety of theme-related sources. They read and/or listen to them to give them more insight about the theme. (comprehension-DOK 2)

TIER 3: Students respond to an extended-writing, theme-related prompt. They are required to use the information from the sources in Tier 2 as evidence (application/analysis-DOK 3).

TIER 4: Students respond to a prompt in which they incorporate strategic thought and reasoning to develop their ideas (DOK 3). Their response relates to the theme of the activities.

TIER 5: Students respond to a prompt in which they evaluate the value of the five-tier activities (DOK 4).

Thinking about and planning for success is a concept that people analyze and evaluate throughout their lifetime. The concept of success differs from person to person. However, most people have some idea of what it is and what it means to them.

Think about what you know about success. Choose one of the writing prompts below. Click on it, and write a one- or two-paragraph response in the space provided.

PROMPT # 1

Write one or two paragraphs in which you discuss what motivates someone to be successful. Give reasons and examples to support your ideas.

PROMPT # 2

Write one or two paragraphs in which you explain the differences between a person who is successful and one who is not successful. Give examples to support your ideas.

PROMPT # 3

Write one or two paragraphs in which you explain how a person's success affects them and the people around them. Give reasons and examples to support your ideas.

Write your response here:

What Creates a Desire to be Successful?

The word “success” is used to describe the ultimate goal of many people. Both young and old people use the word to share their own dreams and to judge others. What makes “success” so important to people?

When people are children, they play games and work on projects with others. When they win, or when they complete a project, they often hear the word “success.” As they get older, the concept of success gets more complex. It’s not just related to winning or completing a task, it becomes a reward, which is often viewed as a status symbol.

The idea of success is encouraged by family members, teachers, preachers, and more. They use the word to motivate young people to do their best so they can become “successful.” They imply that those who do not achieve success are not complete or happy. For this reason, it is drilled into these young people that it is crucial that they achieve success. The concept is taught, but the meaning of success varies greatly.

What Is the Meaning of “Success”?

By Geraldine Phorbes

“If I were successful, I would be a millionaire. I would have an expensive car, a big house, a boat, and oh, so much more.” This is a common interpretation of success. For those who trust in this definition, success is measured by the things people can afford to purchase.

This concept of success is illustrated in popular entertainment. Movie stars are perceived as successful, rich people. Many people admire and envy these people, and they wish they could be as successful. This attitude drives many young people to approach money-making careers. They strive to “climb business ladders” to get to the highest paying positions. Some people believe that money will bring them fame and power. Neither of these goals are easily attainable. The few who achieve these goals might

The main content area contains the following text:

You now have more information about success. Think about what you just learned. You have a greater understanding of the concept of "success."

DIRECTIONS:
Write an essay in which you discuss the meaning and characteristics of success. Use the information from the sources in Tier Two to support your ideas.

Below the text is a rich text editor toolbar with icons for Bold (B), Italic (I), Underline (U), Bulleted List, Numbered List, Cut, Copy, Paste, Undo, and Redo. The editor area is currently blank.

The TIER 3 essay will be holistically scored for the following features:

The introduction of the topic.

The use of relevant details/facts/resources for support.

The clarity of the organization.

The use of appropriate transitions.

The correct and varied use of the English language.

Future Five-Tiered Writing Assessments

In the future, Pro-Core will provide more five-tiered writing assessments in English-language arts, social studies, and other disciplines.

The assessments will vary according to theme and/or content.

In English-language arts, there will be two types of five-tiered writing assessments. One will ask students to write informational pieces, and the other one will ask students to write argumentative pieces.

In social studies, the passages will focus on various content areas covered during instruction.
